Classes Nominate Fourteen Students For Presidencies

The Student Council this week released the names of candidates for president of the lower three Classes. These men were nominated by nominating petitions containing at least 20 names.

JUNIORS: Hugh Henry, Dustin Heuston, Ronald Kessler, Stewart Pollock, William Skinner.

SOPHOMORES: Bernard Collins, Ronald Kraus, Edward Reed, Pieter VanVolkenburgh.

In the Thursday Assembly, April 9, these men will be voted upon by members of their own class. In the event that no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast, there will be run-off elections in Thursday Assembly on April 16 between the two candidates in each class receiving the greatest number of votes. The names of the two finalists will not be reavealed in the intervening week. At class meetings on the evening of April 16, the president will be announced, and election of other class officers will take place.

The period for the circulation of petitions for Council representatives will open on April 16 and close on April 23. A candidate may run as a representative of his own class for the offices of eepresentative of the senior, junior and sophomore Class. Or, the candidate may be

British Professor To Deliver Speech In College Chapel

Sir Basil Willey, one of the outstanding living scholars and critics of the intellectual background to 17th, 18th and 19th century English literature, will lecture on Wordsworth Today at the Chapel, Friday, April 10.

Willey, King Edward VII professor of English literature at Cambridge University, has a visiting professorship in English literature at Cornell University this semester.

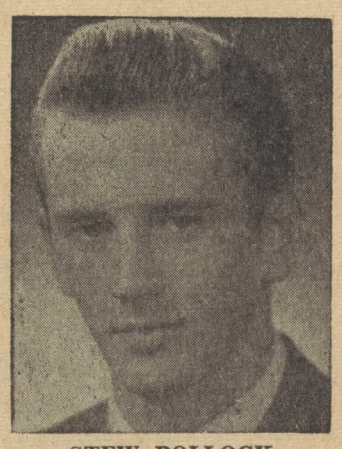
Willey has written many texts on English literature. Among them are Coleridge on Imagination and Fancy, and Nineteenth Century Studies.

He has also contributed articles to the Hibbert Journal and The Twentieth Century, English literary magazines.

Willey received a B.A. at University College School in Hamstead, England. In 1923 he became an English lecturer and 11 years later a university lecturer at Cambridge.

From 1948 to 1949 Willey was visiting professor of English literature at Columbia University.

Willey will also speak at the regional meeting of the College English Association of Upper New York State on Saturday, April 11.



STEW POLLOCK

Pollock Elected 1953-54 Chairman Of Chapel Board

Stew Pollock was elected chairman of the Chapel Board for 1953-54 at its meeting Sunday night. Bill Skinner was elected secretary, and Pete Van Volkenburgh treasurer.

Pollock, a junior, is a member of Was Los and the Honor Court. Treasurer of the Chapel Board and treasurer of the Chapel Board's Campus Fund, Pollock is a member of Psi U.

Skinner, a D.U., has played varsity football for the last three years. Last year he was chairman of the Chapel Board's Christmas Party held at Commons in December.

Van Volkenburgh, Sigma Phi, was publicity chairman for the Campus Fund Drive. He is a president of D.T. and a member of the J.V. basketball team.

Questionnaires on religious aspects of Hill life were given to Chapel Board members for distribution to the fraternities and Commons. The quesionnaires, written by members of the Student Christian Association, are part of an attempt to improve the functioning of religious organizatons on the Hll.

The Chapel Congregation dinner will be held on May 4. At that meeting new members will be elected to the Board. Nominations for membership will be made at a meeting of the old and new officers of the Board.

Five Of Eight Won By Hill Debaters

Hamilton's Debate Club won five of eight debates at Philadelphia last weekend, increasing their wins to a total of 20 for this semester. The total of losses is 14.

Ed Beckwith and Carl Peterson won their debates with Villanova and Temple University, losing to Haverford. Dan Gray and Hank Kopple defeated Villanova, Temple and Haverford. They lost their debates with Swarthmore and the University of Pennsylvania.

IFC Sets Sing Date

The I.F.C. Sing will be held Wednesday, May 6, at 8 p.m. on the Sig lawn. The judges for the Sing will be announced in the next issue of THE SPECTATOR.

Charlatans Pick Shaw Play For Houseparty Weekend

Caeser and Cleopatra by George BernardShaw has been chosen as the Charlatans' spring production the group's Executive Board announced yesterday.

Try-outs for roles will take place on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 8th and 9th, from 9 to 10 p.m. in the Baker Memorial Room. There are 25 male speaking parts to be filled. The comedy includes 10 major roles.

The two important female parts, Cleopatra and Ftateeta, the young queen's chief nurse, and confident, plus several other smaller feminine roles will be cast at a later date.

The Charlatans have scheduled the Shaw production for May 13 through 15th in the Hall of Commons. These dates fall on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights — the last being the first night of Spring Houseparty.

Due to this fact, the Charlatans play will be the main feature for Friday night of houseparty. Seats for the performance will be set aside for students and their dates. Admission for all three nights will be free and by

Publications Banquet Set For April At A D P House

Four Hill organizations, The Spectator, The Continental, The Hamiltonian, and the Press Board will have their day at a Publications Banquet to be held at the Alpha Delt House on Thursday night, April 16th.

The dinner has been planned much along the lines of the annual sports dinner as a get together for staff members and editors of all the College publications. The highlight of the evening will be an after dinner talk by a well-known figure in New York State publications. As plans for the banquet are still being made, the name of the speaker cannot be announced until a later date.

Also on the program for the dinner will be the announcements of the new editors and heads of the four organizations. Pi Delta Epsilon will also pick new members to the Hill chapter of the national journalism fraternity at that time.

The banquet, which is being sponsored by the Publications Board, is being run by Dan Fulmer, assistant editor of The Spectator, and Hugo Pfaltz, chairman of the Publications Board.

Almost 60 students and faculty are expected to attend the dinner. Reservations will be taken by the editors of the various publications this week and after vacation.

The banquet will be handled similar to any other exchange dinner, such as the Campus Fund Drive Dinner, where a member of a fraternity attending the Banquet will exchange with an Alpha Delt who will eat dinner that night at that fraternity.

Fitzgerald Expert To Attend Meeting Here Next Month

Arthur Mizener, Cornell University author, will be the featured speaker here when Hamilton is the host to the annual regional meeting of the College English Association of Up-State New York Saturday, April 18. From 75 to 100 college English teachers will attend.

"The place of courses in contemporary literature in the undergraduate curriculum" will be the topic discussed in the afternoon session which will be held at the Alpha Delta Phi House. Arthur Mizener, professor of English at Cornell University, will be the principal speaker. Mizener, a graduate of Princeton University, recently published a biography of W. Scott Fitzgerald, The Far Side of Paradise. He received an M.A. from Harvard in 1932 and a Ph. D. from Princeton in 1934.

After the afternoon meeting the conference members will be guests of the Theta Delta Chi House at a cocktail party.

At the evening session, Basil Willey, Cambridge University English professor, who is now visiting professor of English at Cornell University, will speak.

Professor George L. Nesbitt arranged for the conference. Commenting on the meeting Nesbitt said, "In recent years, Hamilton has not been host to the conference. It will be a good opportunity to give the people who attend a chance to get acquainted with other people of similar interests in the field of education."

The conference will not be open to students.

Colgate Ousts Two

Two Colgate freshmen have been suspended by University authorities in an effort to curb "party raiding" by the school's undergraduates.

Dean Carl Kallgren told The Spectator over the telephone that the students were suspended for the rest of the semester and that they lose credit for any work done this term before the suspension. They were found in possession of property stolen here during the invasion of Colgate students over Winter Carnival Weekend.

Dean Kallgren pointed out that it would be of great advantage to both schools "to eliminate all traveling stags."

FS Examinations Set For September

Foreign Service exams will be given September 14-17 at 16 cities. Applications for the examinations must be filed by July 1.

The examinations cover languages, government, history and economics. Tests on ability to read and use the English language, handle statistical tables, elementary mathematics and a composite test in philosophy, literature, sociology, etc. conclude the series.

Oral and physical exams are given in Washington beginning January, 1954, for those who passed the first written exams in September.

Salaries begin at $4,000, plus travel expenses. Persons from 20 to 30 years of age may apply.

Students desiring further information should see Channing B. Richardson, assistant professor of political science in 112 Middle.

College Rejects Sunday As 'Wild Bill' Jazz Date

College authorities today ordered the Social Committee to change the date of its annual jazz concert which this year was to have featured "Wild Bill" Davison.

According to SOC chairman Dave White, the College objected to holding the concert on a Sunday. It had been planned for Sunday, April 19. White said his Committee had anticipated no difficulty, since the date had been cleared on the College calendar.

Neither President Robert W. McEwen, who is out of town today, nor Dean Winton Tolles could be contacted for comment early this afternoon.

White said the concert, therefore, is definitely off for April 19 as of this afternoon. He said the Committee will try to get Davison for another date, "although we don't know whether we'll succeed." If Davison can not come to the Hill on another date, the Social Committee may lose as much as $600.

If this happens, White said it would be impossible to hold the concert this year. He added that the Committee will call the houses immediately after vacation, telling them what plans have been made.

Caeser and Cleopatra, called an historical comedy by the author, was written by Shaw for a volume of three plays entitled Plays for Puritans. Included in this series is The Devil's Disciple, a scene from which was presented in the round by the Charlatans on their one-act playbill earlier this month.

The Charlatans plan to construct an intricate unit set to take care of the seven different scenes of the play. A new switchboard will also be built in time for the production. Commented Bill Woodman, the group's director, on the plans for Caeser and Cleopatra: "This will be one of the most ambitious productions of recent years from the standpoint of involved settings and very elaborate costumes."

Magazine Men Praise Hill's Set-Up As Giving Rational Approach To Life

Life reporters and photographers, according to Shirley Booth, "Are always trying to catch you picking your nose." With all respect for Miss Booth's acting abilities, people at Hamilton seem inclined not to agree with her statement. Jim Goode and Myron Davis, the Life reporter and photographer who have been "doing" Hamilton for the past two weeks, are inclined to see Hamilton in a more favorable light.

Approach To Living

Goode believes that Hamilton and similar schools represent "the last stronghold of any rational approach to living—or of any approach, for that matter." He has covered all aspects of the College thoroughly — curriculum, student body, faculty, activities, etc. — and is "very impressed." Goode has worked on many stories for Life —boys' camps, cave disasters, and monkies—but in his words, few have been as "completely satisfying" as Hamilton.

Goode is a graduate (1949) of Wabash College (in Crawfordsville, Indiana) which is also a small liberal arts college. He served in the Air Corps before graduating from Wabash and was on the staff of Stars and Stripes in London, Paris and Western Germany.

A major in philosophy and English literature at Wabash, Goode entered Indiana University Law School in 1949, but left after one semester for a career in journalism. Before being hired by Time, Inc., he was associate editor of the New York Academy of Scienies' publications, and also wrote for Esquire's Apparal Arts. Now as sold on Hamilton as on Wabash, he says he "would consider both, if sending a son to college."

Saunders To Attend International Meeting

Al Saunders, treasurer of the Student Council, was recently chosen by the IFC and the Student Council to represent the College this weekend at a conference of student government leaders throughout the world.

The conference is being sponsored by Paul Smith College. Purpose of the conference is to discuss common problems of student government "in the confused times in which we find ourselves," according to a letter to Hamilton's Student Council by Paul Smith College's Council.

The meeting will be held at the Lake Placid Club, Lake Placid, New York.

Choir To Vocalize At Wells Festival

The 75-man Hamilton College Choir has planned an extensive spring itinerary which includes a trip to New York City, an exchange concert with Wells College and two other concerts.

On Friday, April 10, the Choir directed by John L. Baldwin, Jr., will present a concert of secular music at Nyack, New York. The concert, which will be sponsored by the Nyack P.T.A., will feature baritone soloist John Ferris, and will include four modern secular selections, arranged by Aaron Copeland. Nyack in the past has been host to many other eastern college choirs, including Yale and Bowdoin.

On Sunday, April 12, the Choir will sing the morning worship service at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and in the afternoon will sing at St. Thomas' Church. Tenor John Ferris and baritone Alfred Prettyman will be featured in both of the New York services.

The following weekend the combined Choirs of Hamilton and Wells will perform an exchange concert. On Friday, April 17, the combined Choirs will sing at Wells, and Saturday the same concert will be presented at the Hamilton Alumni Gymnasium.

A concert of secular music will highlight Parents' Weekend Friday, April 24. The last of the seven performances will be presented May 2 when the Utica Oratorio Society will combine with the Hamilton Choir to sing Handel's Israel in Egypt.

1 st Parent Weekend Scheduled For April

By Bill D'Aran

Parents' Day at Hamilton College will take place on Saturday, April 25, Charles Bates, '53, a member of the Student Council, announced this week. The College authorities have sent a letter to the parents of each student, inviting them to attend this function, first of its kind at Hamilton.

Several activities have been planned for the affair. Parents who arrive on Friday night will be able to attend classes with their sons on Saturday morning. The formal program will begin with a luncheon at 1:00 p.m. in the Hall of Commons at which all visiting parents will be the guests of the College. This will be followed by a track meet between Hamilton and Union College at 2:30 p.m. During the meet, a lacrosse game with the j.v. team of R.P.I. and a baseball game with Utica College will both begin at 3:00 p.m.

A reception by the president and faculty will be held in the library from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at the fraternity houses and Commons. A choir concert in the Chapel at 8:15 p.m. will conclude the day's activities. Sunday morning, a special Chapel service will be held at 11 a.m.

Bates urged that students begin to arrange for housing of their parents immediately.

Spouses Succumb In Student Bridge

The students repeated their last year's victory over the faculty wives in the annual wives-student bridge tournament, held at the McEwens' Wednesday night. Scores ranged from 610 to 6050, the former belonging to an anonymous wives' team, the latter attained by Carl Wheeler and Ted Law.

The tournament was run on a rotation basis. Each student team played for twenty minutes at six of the thirteen tables. Following the sixth table, the wives served coffee and cake. If an editorial note is permissible, the wives are better cooks than bridge players.

No Spectator will be published April 10, the Friday following the end of Spring vacation.

Seniors Top Juniors, 41-36, In Was Los Tourney Finals

Trailing by a 20-18 score at the half, the seniors staged a comeback rally in the waning minutes of the game to clinch the interclass basketball title with a 41-36 victory over the juniors. In the preliminary contest the power-packed sophomores, held to a 15-15 half-time deadlock, came to life in the final period to trounce the frehmen, 46-34, and take third place.

Carl Wheeler was the big gun in the seniors' win with 14 points, but the margin of victory was actually provided by Fred Henry, who got all seven of his points late in the game. Much of the credit for the triumph of the class of '53 belongs to Don Abrahams, who set up many of his team's scores.

Center Dan Taylor, with eight points, was high for the juniors, followed by Benny Salkuski and George Padgett with six each. The juniors lost the game in the final two minutes, after buckets by Taylor and Bill Winship had cut the seniors' lead to two points. The losers got three clean shots at the basket in these closing moments, but failed to hit, and a subsequent basket by Bobby Abrams and foul shot by Henry clinched the championship.

In the first game sharp-shooting Paul Darrow fired in ten second half points to break the contest wide open and give the Sophs third place in the tourney. Darrow got 12 points in all to lead his team's scorers, followed by Max Gray and Dick Cavanaugh with seven each. Pete Carpenter tallied 12 points for the losers.

Psi U Tops ADP In Basketball Tilt, Nears Loop Title

Psi Upsilon unpended Alpha Delta Phi, 44 - 36, Wednesday night to virtually clinch the intramural basketball title. For Psi U the victory was number nine in nine outings, thus leaving them the only undefeated team in the league. The "Barn" quintet has two more games to play, but their opponents, Delta Phi and Chi Psi, are both near the bottom of the league and are not expected to provide much opposition.

Alpha Delt, the defending champions, could have tied for first place by planning, but the fast breaking Psi U attack proved too much for them. The shooting of Charlie Pratt and the rebounding of Fred Henry were the outstanding features of the winners' attack. The loss dropped the Alpha Delts into a third place tie with E.L.S. behind Psi U and Theta Delt.

Thus, barring an unforeseen upset, Psi U has collected 10 points this winter toward the Intramural Trophy, having annexed the bowling championship two weeks ago.

Blue Baseball Nine To Take Junket

With only a week of outdoor practice under their belts, the Hamilton College baseball team will make their annual spring tour of Pennsylvania and New Jersey next week, meeting Moravian, Drew and Upsala in single games on Monday, Tuesday and Wdnesday. These games are not on the official College schedule and do not count toward the final record.

Due to the heavy rains and the cold of recent days, most of the team's practice sessions have been held in the gym. Coach Greg Batt will build his new team around catcher and Captain Don Grant and hard hitting third baseman Dinny Calkins.

Hill Critic Praises Wolfe Performance

By Rusty Kerr

The College community enjoyed a rare musical treat last evening in the fine performance of the young American pianist, James Wolfe. Perhaps it was with a certain raising of the eyebrows that we read the superlatives of the professional critics last week, but those who attended Wolfe's concert in the Chapel must admit that the plaudits were justified.

The evening had its highlights of course and the rendition of Hindemith's Sonata No. 2, classical in form with modern harmonics, was especially noteworthy. There were wide variations in tempo with difficult runs in contrary motion and mounting scale passages, all of which Mr. Wolfe handled with technical competence and sympathetic expression.

Wolfe's rendition suffered somewhat in Bach's Prelude and Fugue in A minor due to the fact perhaps that it was the opening number of the concert. The style was rigid and seemed forced, while the artist was inclined to overwork the pedal in certain passages. Mr. Wolfe's runs became noticeably freer as the concert progressed.

Beethoven's Sonata in A flat Major, Opus 110 was the most profound selection of the eveing and is a favorite of Wolfe's. The first movement, moderato cantabile, opened with crisp tone and displayed superb trilling. In the second movement the runs were limber and exact with none of the stiffness of the Bach selection. In the Adagio movement all of Wolfe's artistic expression was revealed in the sincere warmth of tone with which it was delivered.

For the second half of his program, Wolfe seemed completely at ease in the Chapel auditorium and delivered three Brahms Intermezzos with confident touch and great feeling. In the Brahms Rhapsody in E flat Major the runs were not perfect throughout, but the selection was rendered with a vibrant, dramatic intensity.

Wolfe's concluding group of Chopin selections was a fitting climax for the evening's entertainment. Delivered with perfect skill, the plaintive Etude in C sharp minor was at its lyric best in this artist's rendition. The Etude in G flat Major was well integrated, while the runs in the Mazurka in A minor were technically proficient, crisp in style, and brilliant in tone.
